Getting Their Kicks

CYSA players test their skills at 5th annual shootout

By Eric Zengota e-Ticker News

CLAREMONT, NH—The sun shone brightly on the Claremont Youth Soccer Association's mid-season shootout on Saturday. "This is essentially our only fundraiser," said CYSA president Jason West, "so we ask each player to raise a minimum of $10 to take part."

Players took their best shots at various-sized goals set up on the Claremont Middle School lower field, earning points for each goal. The Shootout Champion from each team received a trophy.

Players who raised at least $25 got $10 gift cards; for every $50 raised, they got a $20 gift card. The cards could be used at Walmart, Olympia Sports and Maple Lanes.

Revolution (4/5 division), the team that raised the most money, could choose either a pizza or an ice cream party. Said West, "With the heat we have now I would encourage the ice cream!" Kyle Premo of Revolution, who individually raised the most money, won a $100 gift card.

The CYSA summer season continues for the next few weeks. Matches are played at 5:30pm weekday evenings except Friday and all day Saturdays in Monadnock Park. Final championship matches will be held there on Saturday, Aug. 3.

Youth baseball wraps up season

CLAREMONT, NH—The annual Steve Corcoran Memorial Baseball Tournament was held this past weekend on the fields of Claremont's Monadnock Park. Greg Clark, the president of Claremont Youth Baseball/Softball Association, had invited teams from New Hampshire and Vermont to take part. Eleven teams participated in the 10U division and six in 12U. The team that traveled the farthest was from Hinsdale, New Hampshire.

The Claremont team was chosen from the several teams that had played in CYBSA's regular season, April to June. Although they didn't make it to the championship game, the

Another Smith HR, Four Hits from Mineo Not Enough in 11-9 Loss

HARTFORD, CT—Despite home runs from Kevin Smith, Forrest Wall and Chad Spanberger, along with a four-hit game from Alberto Mineo, the New Hampshire Fisher Cats (Blue Jays Double-A affiliate) were outslugged by the Hartford Yard Goats (Colorado Rockies) 11-9 on Saturday night at Dunkin Donuts Park, snapping New Hampshire's four-game win streak.

The Fisher Cats (9-14), who produced a season-high 17 hits, took the lead in the top of the first inning when Wall tripled and scored on a single by Santiago Espinal. In his second at bat of the night, Wall homered into the upper deck in right field to give the Fisher Cats a 2-0 lead in the top of the third inning.

Smith blasted his team-leading 11th home run in the top of fourth, while Mineo and Spanberger strung together doubles for another run as the Fisher Cats opened a 4-0 cushion.

From that point, it was all Yard Goats. Fisher Cats starter Patrick Murphy cruised through four innings but left the game in the fifth after two singles and two walks led to a Yard Goats run. Murphy struck out seven batters. Tyler Nevin drilled a two-run single off reliever Willy Ortiz (L, 3-5) to make it a 4-3 ballgame.

Hartford went ahead for good in the last of the sixth inning, scoring six times for a 9-4 lead. Scott Burcham singled in a run, Carlos Herrera hit a sacrifice fly and Vance Vizcaino beat out an infield single for another. Nevin then blasted a three-run homer for Hartford to give him five RBIs in two innings. Vizcaino hit a two-run shot in the eighth to extend the lead to 11-4.

The Fisher Cats rallied with five runs in the ninth, which included a two-run single by Mineo and a two-run homer by Spanberger, but could not complete the comeback.

On Sunday, Forrest Wall, Kevin Smith and Nash Knight drilled solo home runs, but the New Hampshire Fisher Cats (Toronto Blue Jays Double-A affiliate) dropped a 6-3 decision to the Hartford Yard Goats (Colorado Rockies) on Sunday evening at Dunkin' Donuts Park. Including Sunday's three long balls, the Fisher Cats finished the four-game series split with 13 home runs.

Top prospect Nate Pearson started for the Fisher Cats and allowed just a solo home run by Scott Burcham in his three innings of work. Pearson walked two and struck out two.

Wall led off the game with a home run -- his second homer in two games -- to give the Fisher Cats a 1-0 lead, but Burcham's homer tied the score in the second.

New Hampshire drilled two more solo blasts in the top of the fourth inning to reclaim the lead. Knight led off with his sixth homer. Later in the inning, Smith blasted his team-leading 12th bomb -- and fourth of the series -- to put the Fisher Cats up 3-1.

The Yard Goats tied the game with a two-run home run by Bret Boswell in the fourth, and made it 4-3 with a run in the bottom of the fifth on a double by Tyler Nevin.

Hartford pulled away with two more solo homers in the sixth inning from Mylz Jones and Brian Serven.

Heath Holder (W, 5-2) earned the win with relievers Alexander Guillen and Scott Griggs (S, 4) combining for four hitless innings to close out the game for the Yard Goats.

William Ouellette (L, 1-1) took the loss for the Fisher Cats.

The Fisher Cats return to Delta Dental Stadium on Monday to play the Sea Dogs (Boston Red Sox). The first game with Portland is scheduled for 7:05 p.m. Game Highlight: an Autograph Session with Chris Carpenter & Tim Schaller, thanks to our friends at Primary Bank. For tickets and information, visit nhfishercats.com.

Fisher Cats to Host the Cast of North Woods Law on July 25

CONCORD, NH—The New Hampshire Fisher Cats will host a North Woods Law: New Hampshire Night on Thursday, July 25, at Northeast Delta Dental Stadium. Fans can meet the stars of the hit TV series at an autograph session from 5:30 p.m. until the end of

"Our fans had such a blast with this event last season, and we wanted to make sure to bring it back in 2019," said Fisher Cats President Mike Ramshaw. "These officers do such important work for the Granite State, and we're thrilled to have them at the ballpark."

Inspiration

Rest for Your Soul

By Priscilla Hull

Ah, summer! The time of family vacations. Family reunions. Time away! All are good times to get away from routine and rediscover ourselves. No matter what, everyone needs time to get away from the routine of everyday life.

We need time for recreation, or re-creation. To start over again, to make all things new again. It is easy to say, but not so easy to do. When the world was created, and I don't care if you believe in the Big Bang, or Darwin or the Judeo-Christian story of creation, there is a fact that there was time of rest that came about as a simple means to refresh the very creatures who have played the greatest part in the development of our modern world.

Why re-creation? Why do we need a rest? Why do we need time for refreshment and renewal. Why should we take time to get away and renew ourselves?

It is really quite simple. No matter what the job, no matter how dedicated to it, there is a time when the responsibilities, the day to day sameness, the restrictions of doing the same things day after day reach a saturation point. They reach a point when they are no longer fresh and new and it becomes difficult to focus on the task at hand, and so we need a break. It's really quite simple. A break from the routine because when we take that break, it's a re-creation of the self. We come back to the same job, the routine, the single-minded recurrences with a fresh look, a clearer mind, a kind of newness. It's like a new view from a mountain top after a refreshing rain storm. Things will be brighter, the same activities will be more exciting and a new energy will be found in place of the old routine.

A time to re-create the life we live. A time to start again. So whether your time away is two days, two weeks or anytime between, find that time. Some will find it at the ocean, some in the mountains, some in New York City or Boston and some in a quiet spot, a bed and breakfast, maybe in a new place, or an old place; we'll all be able to find it and make the best we can, so that when our time of rest is finished, we'll return to the routine ready for anything, eager to keep going until the next time of Rest for the Soul.

He said to them, "Come away to a quiet place and rest awhile." Mark 6:31

4 Tips to Nail Your Next Phone Interview

Take the call in the right place

You will want to be in a place that gets good reception (or where you have access to a landline) and is, perhaps more important, free of lots of noise, whether from construction, traffic or otherwise. It may seem like a little thing, but if you're constantly asking the person on the other end to repeat themselves because the reception is spotty or the outside noise is too loud, it can be a real turnoff.

Have a cheat sheet in front of you

You're likely to be asked a slew of questions about yourself, your qualifications, the company and so on, Kununu added. But because you're in a remote location, it can be wise to make a document you can refer to throughout the call, so you're never caught off-guard by a question and have easy access to whatever you need with the click of a mouse. For instance, having the information from your resume, some basic facts about the company, your salary demands and other details at the ready will help you seem "on the ball."

No distractions

A phone interview is, in many ways, just as serious as an in-person one, so it will help to reduce the distractions in front of you, according to The Interview Guys. That means no TV in the background (even on mute), no social media in another window, no pets in the room and basically just committing yourself fully to paying attention to the conversation at hand and referring to your cheat sheet as needed.

Take it slow

It's normal to be nervous, but that only increases the need to speak slowly and carefully throughout the interview, according to Career Contessa. If you start answering questions quickly, stumbling over your own words, that could come across either as nerves or a lack of preparedness. The latter could be quite bad for any interviewee, so make sure you're committing yourself to taking your time, using a moment to consider the answer carefully or referring to your cheat sheet.

A New Hampshire First will Take the Stage at Amplified Arts

CLAREMONT, NH—"Shakespeare in Love" is the stage adaption of the academy awardwinning Marc Norman and Tom Stoppard screenplay, of the same name, adapted for the stage by Lee Hall with music by Paddy Cunneen and performed with special permission from Samuel French. Amplified Arts will be the first theatre company in NH to perform it on stage.

According to Amplified Arts Executive Director Shelly Hudson, "A cast filled with local, award-winning talent will play such roles as Will Shakespeare, Kit Marlow, and Queen Elizabeth I. All set in Elizabeth's England in 1593, done in contemporary language with Shakespeare's verse, no accents, and live renaissance music, this show is not one you will want to miss!"

The story follows Will, who has writer's block and Viola, who would do anything to be on the stage. They meet and sparks fly, and soon their love affair becomes the inspiration for Shakespeare's epic tale of the star crossed lovers in "Romeo & Juliet".

In AMP's intimate space, you will be only a few feet away from this play with music as the Bard borrows language from his beloved London to create a masterpiece of love and lost. This is a dramatic comedy, so there is sword fighting, fine acting and even a bit with a dog!

The show opens August 8th with a Dinner and Show event at an increased ticket price. Two additional shows on August 9th and 10th offers our regular rates and discounts for members. Tickets on sale now as www.amplifiedartsnh.com. You can also follow Amplified Arts on Facebook, Twitter and instagram.

Nymen Koch, is a 9 year old 4th grader at Maple Ave School in Claremont, NH. Nymen was diagnosed with a kidney condition called FSGS. He is in stage 5 renal failure and has already had both kidneys removed. Nymen needs a kidney transplant to live and receives dialysis until a kidney donor match can be found. The family travels back and forth to Boston, often having to stay in Boston while Nymen receives treatment. Both of Nymen's parents are working part time while caring for Nymen and expenses are becoming insurmountable.

As you can imagine the toll on the entire family is immense and he is literally in the fight of his life. They are hoping by removing the kidneys it will buy him more time to find a donor. He is type A+ blood type and can accept either A or O blood type transplants. People can live with 1 kidney. We will have a table set up where you can give your information if you'd be interested in donating a kidney, which will be forwarded to Nymen's care coordinator in Boston.

If you're interested in volunteering at this event please arrive half an hour early and check in at the concession stand. All proceeds will go to Team Nymen Charitable Fund sponsored by Claremont Savings Bank. Thank you for donations from North Country Smokehouse, Kiwanis, Uptown Bakery Stevens Alumni Association, and Ink Factory.

Snakes and Safety

By Bernadette O'Leary

People marvel at and are horrified by snake handling shows. Cowboys from Hell Rattlesnake Handler, David Thomas, took time to speak about the purpose of these shows.

Obviously, snakes can be dangerous. Not everyone can discern venomous from non-venomous, but even non-venomous snakes are nothing to be toyed with. They all bite, and this can cause injuries. So, are Thomas and his partners crazy for what they do? They handle deadly snakes. They do stunts such as sitting in a bathtub full of snakes, laying in a sleeping bag full of snakes and bagging snakes in speed competitions. They hear the claims that they are crazy often, and Thomas' response is an interesting one. He states that he is not crazy, but rather he is educated. He is educated on the psychology of snakes, for lack of a better term. He knows how they act and what sets them off. More importantly, he knows how not to set them off.

The fact is, while snakes can and will bite if provoked, they are not mindless monsters. Thomas and his partners, including videographer Todd Autry, have worked with snakes for years in an effort to spread awareness of both safety and understanding for these creatures. In their efforts to show people that snakes are to be respected, not feared or senselessly slaughtered simply because they're snakes, many of the snake handlers have been bitten. This goes with the territory. One such incident happened this year, when handler David Estep was bitten during one of the performances. Estep is doing fine, and he is not slowing down. In fact, he has been bitten dozens of times, but he continues the work.

This brings me to the concern for the snakes. A common misconception is that these snakes are mistreated. In fact, The Cowboys from Hell Rattlesnake Handlers talk to people about respecting these animals and preserving snake dens. They use their work to help people understand the importance and nature of these animals. For example, Thomas explains to people how vital snakes are to the ecosystem, keeping down the mouse and rat populations that lead to an increase in ticks if left unchecked. Thomas and his partners also teach people how snakes are not going to try to attack for no reason. Rather, they try to avoid people. Most bites happen when someone inadvertently surprises or steps on a snake.

Much of the time, snakes will sense you coming through feeling vibrations of footsteps in the ground. However, it is possible to catch one by surprise. Thomas recommends using a long walking stick when you walk through grassy or rocky terrain where snakes could be hiding. You can use this to move the grass around ahead of you, or if an encounter occurs, you can use it to push the snake out of the way. You can avoid most snakes altogether by walking on clear paths. Also, stepping on rocks or logs and then taking a large stride for the next step, rather than simply stepping over the rock or log, can help avoid snakes. If a bite does occur, help the victim stay calm and get to help quickly. Staying calm can prevent the individual from going into shock.

Snakes are simply animals doing their animal thing. They don't want to encounter humans any more than we want to encounter them. Taking precautions and learning more about them can help. So, be careful when mowing your lawns this summer. You never know what you might find.
